ABOUT THIS BOOKLET

This booklet is a resource for patients and families who want to understand pancreatic cancer. The more information and knowledge you have, the more empowered you can be about decisions associated with a pancreatic cancer diagnosis.

Use this booklet as a reference guide to talk about pancreatic cancer with your healthcare team.

Our Patient Central Associates are trained on a wide variety of topics relating to pancreatic cancer. Contact an Associate toll-free at 877-2-PANCAN or email patientcentral@pancan.org. Associates are available Monday – Friday, 7 a.m. – 5 p.m. Pacific Time, to provide support and information about:

- Disease and treatment
- Know Your Tumor® precision medicine service
- Clinical trials – personalized searches using our comprehensive database
- Diet and nutrition
- Pain and symptom management
- Pancreatic cancer specialists
- Support resources

All services are free of charge.

The Pancreatic Cancer Action Network recommends that all patients consider clinical trials when exploring treatment options.

A glossary is provided at the end of this booklet for bold words in the booklet’s text.

You are your own best advocate.
The Pancreatic Cancer Action Network strongly recommends that you discuss your treatment goals with your healthcare team and know all of your options at every stage of your disease.
